Paul Aitchison, comedy actor and performer best known as co-writer and performer in award-winning sketch act Mixed Doubles, is proud to present his ambitious, original and hilarious comedy magic show - a groundbreaking blend of character comedy, audience participation and genuinly mind-melting magic. Fresh from a sell-out run at Edinburgh Fringe 2019, this word-of-mouth favourite gets ready to hoodwink theatregoers once again at the Brighton Fringe.

Playing all four acts in the finale of a spectacularly bizarre magic competition, Aitchison unleashes his unique mix of feel-good comedy with genuinely jaw-dropping magic tricks as each finalist competes for your vote and the hallowed trophy...It's bonkers, it's bamboozling, but...Could It Be Magic?

Battling it out for the title and your votes...meet the finalists:

KLAUSE FANTASTICHE: Germany's Nol Illusionist (in his price range) is known for his grand illusions, high production values and having Fantastiche hair. But how will he fare without his trusty battalion of dancers, stage-hands and tigers?

ZANTOS THORNE: The self-professed "Brain Fondler of Wisconsin", this mind reading magician is dark, moody and ready to kill the competition. Winning would be just the boost he needs to move up in his career and out of his Mom\square basement.

COLIN & CAROL: Household names since the 1970's, husband and wife team Colin and Carol are surely the golden couple of British conjuring, golden showered with awards and ready to prove they still have what it takes. Ignore the gossip columns, their relationship has never been stronger. Indeed, 'The Strongest Magic Is Their LoveTM".

REG KETTLE: Founder, president and sometime janitor of the Magic Ring Magical Society. Reg is your host and (suspiciously) the current title holder...yet again. Reg has xcellent availability through 2020/2021.
